RE: Changes to UCR Regulations 2, 3, and 4: 2–Requirements for the Degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science, and Master of Administration; 3–Requirements for the Degree of Master of Fine Arts; 4–Requirements for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy

Dear Kara,

The Academic Executive Council discussed the subject proposed regulation changes along with comments received from committees during their November 10, 2025 meeting. I am writing to share this feedback for your review in consideration of a revised proposal.

Should a revision be put forward for review, please keep in mind that committees may take approximately six weeks to review and respond. In writing back, please include “[New Business]” in the subject line and email them to my attention (barish@ucr.edu) with a courtesy copy to Senate Director Cherysa Cortez (cherysac@ucr.edu).

Sincerely,

The CHASS Executive Committee reviewed the Proposed Regulation Change: Changes to UCR Regulations 2, 3, and 4: 2–Requirements for the Degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science, and Master of Administration; 3-Requirements for the Degree of Master of Fine Arts; 4–Requirements for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy. There were concerns about why the foreign language requirement was completely removed. It was noted that some programs could not graduate their students in a timely manner due to the foreign language requirement because of the course availability at UCR. The committee supports the changes. However, the committee would like clarification about the elimination of the foreign language requirement.

SUBJECT: [Campus Review] (Proposed Regulation Change) Changes to UCR Regulations 2, 3, and 4:
2-Requirements for the Degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science, and Master of Administration;
3-Requirements for the Degree of Master of Fine Arts; 4-Requirements for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy

Prof. Barish,

The CNAS Faculty Executive Committee has reviewed the proposed changes to UCR Regulations 2, 3, and 4 at their October 7th meeting and had comments to provide to the Senate.

The committee has voiced their concern for the proposed regulations, which seem to limit the autonomy of the graduate program advisors in allowing students to choose their path forward to obtaining an M.S. degree, after they have advanced to candidacy. This has been available to students as an option if they don't test well or if their project or research doesn't work out and it provides a way for students to continue forward toward their degree. The committee feels that the programs should each be able to decide for themselves if and how many times a student should be allowed to switch their pathway and that the proposed changes are too rigid and may cause undo harm to the students.

Additionally, it was discussed that regulation 3.2, which would allow students who will not be completing their degree to apply for a Candidate in Philosophy (C. Phil). There was discussion that this type of change to the regulations could disqualify current graduate degrees and provide students with an incentive to not complete the degree path they started and committed to.

The committee would like to suggest sending the proposal back for additional changes to support students' decisions to change to an alternative route to complete their Masters program that provides flexibility to change from a thesis to a non-thesis option.

Sincerely,

Hi Kaushali and Dr. Godzik,

Thank you for allowing the MPH Program team to review the proposed changes. We appreciate the opportunity to provide feedback. I've copied Dr. Sims and Dr. Wolfson for any additional input. Our team didn't have an opportunity to review this document together but given Monday's deadline for FEC response, I thought that I'd share some points and bring them to your attention.

Below are several points that may impact the proposed revisions to the new Section 3.1:

- Integrative Learning Experience (ILE) – PBHL 289

The MPH Program incorporates the CEPH accreditation requirement for an Integrative Learning Experience (ILE) through the PBHL 289: Capstone or Thesis course. This is a 4-unit, degree-required course currently pending Senate approval. Students may enroll in the course for up to three attempts (maximum of 12 units) if additional time is needed to complete their project.

Note: Some programs on campus do not have a designated thesis course and may instead use 297 or 299.

- PBHL 297 and PBHL 299 Research Courses

Separately, the MPH program has also received approval for PBHL 297: Directed Research and PBHL 299: Research for Capstone or Thesis. These courses do not have a limit on the number of times they can be taken; however, only up to 8 units may count toward elective credits.

Concerns:

- The proposed revisions appear to limit these courses to a maximum of 12 units.
- The revisions also suggest that PBHL 299 may no longer be used for capstone projects. This change would restrict MPH students from enrolling in PBHL 299 to conduct research supporting their capstone project. The program would prefer to maintain this option for capstone students.

- Concurrent Enrollment Option for Electives

The MPH Program currently allows students to fulfill an elective requirement by enrolling in an undergraduate public health-related course concurrently with PBHL 292. The 292 course elevates the rigor to the graduate level, and students must obtain program approval prior to enrollment.

Question:

The updated language appears to indicate that the Graduate Council must approve these exceptions. Would the MPH Program need to submit a formal program update to retain this option? We are concerned that routing these approvals through the Graduate Council could delay student progress toward graduation if we are unable to offer this flexibility directly through program approval.

We welcome guidance from the Faculty Executive Committee and the Academic Senate regarding these questions and appreciate their support in ensuring the proposed revisions align with program needs and accreditation standards.

RE: [Comments] Proposed changes to the following regulations: 2 – Requirements for the Degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science, and Master of Administration 3 - Requirements for the Degree of Master of Fine Arts 4 – Requirements for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy

Date: October 28, 2025

The Executive Committee of the School of Public Policy has reviewed the Proposed changes to the following regulations: 2 – Requirements for the Degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science, and Master of Administration 3 - Requirements for the Degree of Master of Fine Arts 4 – Requirements for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

Our only comment is related to Section 2.3 (Advancement to Candidacy Requirement, formerly Section 2.5). The proposed change modifies the current policy that applications for advancement to candidacy be made upon recommendation by an academic department and replaces it with a policy that applications be made upon recommendation by the “faculty graduate advisor.” For programs that do not use assigned graduate faculty advisors, this policy change may have the unintended effect of placing the responsibility of recommendation to candidacy decisions on department chairs, who may be less familiar with student progress than staff graduate advisors.

COMMITTEE ON RULES AND JURISDICTION

Committee on Rules and Jurisdiction

Re: [Campus Review] (Proposed Regulation Change) Changes to UCR Regulations 2, 3, and 4: 2–Requirements for the Degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science, and Master of Administration; 3–Requirements for the Degree of Master of Fine Arts; 4–Requirements for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy

The Committee on Rules and Jurisdiction has carefully considered the Proposed Changes to UCR Regulations 2, 3, and 4: 2–Requirements for the Degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science, and Master of Administration; 3–Requirements for the Degree of Master of Fine Arts; 4–Requirements for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy. The Committee on Rules and Jurisdiction appreciates the Graduate Council’s and Graduate Division’s initiative to update these regulations. In addition to editorial comments, the Committee believes that the current draft is not sufficiently clear on the role that summer quarters can play in fulfilling the residency requirements. This involves both campus regulations and the underlying Senate Regulations 688-690. The Committee believes that there are potential discrepancies between the proposed regulations and the Senate Regulations that should be clarified. The Committee also suggests additional clarity in the handling of deadlines in Regulation 2.1.2, last 2 lines.

SUMMER REGISTRATION AND RESIDENCY:

The issue of counting Summer session enrollments as quarters in residence is regulated by the UC Systemwide regulations 688-690. The proposed campus regulations, however, add a sentence saying that Summer session registration is not “typically” counted for residence. Regulation 688-690 says that summer quarters “may be” counted, according to specific criteria. Therefore, the campus regulations should provide guidance about when Summer enrollments can count for residency, and when not, and should not override the systemwide regulation.

2.2, 4.1.1 The word “typically” in the added text does not provide guidance about when summer quarters might be counted, and does not refer to the specific criteria laid out in systemwide Regulations 688-690.

2.2.2, 2.2.3, Conform with Regulations 688-690, but seem to contradict the sentence added to 2.2.1.

4.2.1, 4.2.2, 4.2.3 Applies as above

DEADLINES:

2.1.2, last 2 lines. The word “typically” found here tells students that there are other options without providing any guidance on how they are regulated. The text should be clarified on this point. For example (depending on how the Graduate Council and Graduate Division wish to regulate the submission deadlines): “Unless otherwise specified in a department’s program [or whatever exceptions apply], results of the capstone requirement must be reported to the Vice Provost and Dean of Graduate studies by the day grades are due for the quarter in which the requirement is completed.” (Also with minor editorial suggestions).

EDITORIAL CHANGES:

For additional clarity, the Committee also suggests the following editorial changes.

2.1, lines 7-8: “...all requirements for the degree must normally be satisfied within one calendar year from time of advancement to candidacy for the Master’s degree.”

2.1, lines 10-12: “If..., the students may only change plans once, with the approval of the faculty graduate advisor, prior to advancement to candidacy for the Master’s degree. Once advanced to candidacy, changing plans is not permitted.”

2.1.1, line 3: Change “make” to “conduct”

2.1.1, line 4: Delete “a”

2.1.1, line 4-5: Rephrase as “In preparation of the thesis, the candidate...”
Thus: “...demonstrating the ability to conduct independent investigation, is required of every candidate pursuing Plan I. In preparation of the thesis, the candidate...”

2.1.1, line 8: Suggest replacing “is” with “shall be”: “This committee shall be composed...”

2.1.1, section 3, line 4: Delete “a” before “Plan I”

2.1.2: As written, the Capstone Plan could be interpreted to require all of the listed options: “Capstone requirements include, but are not limited to Comprehensive Exam, Performance, Exhibition", etc.") Suggest rephrasing to make it clear that these are alternatives. For example, "A department's options for the Capstone requirement include but are not limited to..."

- 2.3 The Committee suggests: "To advance to candidacy for the Master's degree, students must apply to the Vice Provost..."
- 2.3 The clause "specifically..." reads a bit oddly. The Committee suggests something like "with the recommendation of the faculty graduate advisor of the graduate program in which the student is completing their degree."
- 2.3 The Committee suggests: "Application for advancement to candidacy for the Master's degree shall be made..."
- 3 Suggested clarification of section title: "Requirements for specific Master's Degree Objectives, and for the status of Candidate in Philosophy." [the term "Candidate in Philosophy" is no longer in common use and would benefit from clarification].
- 3.1 The Committee suggests: "No units from 001-099, 291, 300 or 400 level courses may be used..."
- 3.1.6, last line the Committee suggests: "to test the candidate's knowledge of the field" [gender-neutral language]
- 3.2 The Committee suggests reversing the first and second sentences, in order to put the definition first, then the process and the limitations in the 3rd sentence.

REPORT TO THE RIVERSIDE DIVISION

Statement of Purpose and Effect

JUSTIFICATION and EXPLANATION OF CHANGES

2 – Requirements for all Master's Degree Objectives

- Updated to encompass all master's degree objectives, instead of only specific degree objectives (MA, MS, MAD).

2.1 - Plans for the Master's Degree

- Added expectations for switching between Plan I and Plan II.
 - Students requesting late and multiple changes in plan has been an issue for Graduate Division and especially program faculty and staff. The master's application for candidacy is due the first day of instruction for the student's final quarter in the program. Adding clarity to the regulation will help ensure that when students advance to candidacy, they have a finalized plan for graduation.

2.1.1 - Plan I: Thesis Plan (Final Defense, Thesis Formatting, and Thesis Submission Requirements)

- Combined 2.1.1, 2.6, 2.6.1, and 2.6.2 so all thesis requirements are in one regulation. This regulation applies to all master's students completing Plan I.
- Moved unit requirements out of this regulation and to the specific master's degree objective section.
- Removed outside member recommendation from the thesis committee. This is not current practice.
- Adding unanimous approval of the thesis committee members for final defense completion and thesis approval.

2.1.2 - Plan II: Capstone Plan

- Expanded the name of the Plan II from "comprehensive exam" to "capstone" to encompass Comprehensive Exams and other non-thesis options. This will bring the regulation in line with current practice.
- Many graduate programs currently use Plan II for a variety of capstones: e.g., analytical report, comprehensive exam, project, performance, professional paper, etc.
- Specified that the capstone results must be reported to the Graduate Division and the date those results are expected.

- Moved unit requirements out of this regulation and into the section for the specific master's degree objective.
- UC Davis Example of a Plan II name like the proposed:
<https://gradstudies.sf.ucdavis.edu/masters-doctoral-candidacy>

▼ Master's Plan II (Exam/Capstone Project)

- Plan II programs must include a minimum of 36 units, but programs may specify requirements in addition to those listed here.
- At least 18 units must be graduate courses in the major field.
 - Not more than 9 units of research (299 or equivalent) may be used to satisfy the 18-unit requirement.

The final requirements may include a comprehensive exam, a project, or a capstone course.

- These are evaluated by a committee approved by the student's graduate program.
- The committee chair submits the results of the final requirement to Graduate Studies using the Master's Plan II Report.

2.2 - Residence Definition - Academic

- The definition of "residence" was lacking in the regulations. This explains what that word means in the context of completing a Master's degree.
- Included the word "academic" to differentiate from California residency.
- Simplifying and separating the information to enhance clarity about the different aspects of residency regulations.
- UCOP residency regulations (688) - <https://senate.universityofcalifornia.edu/bylaws-regulations/regulations/rpart3.html#rpart3-llch1-1>
- UCSB Example - <https://catalog.ucsb.edu/pages/qmROuY1oB6oah1vB7CX2>

2.2.1 - Residence Requirement – Minimum Quarters

- Removed gender specific pronouns.
- This regulation is focused on the minimum number of quarters a student must attend to be eligible for a master's degree.

2.2.2 - Residence Requirement – Minimum Units per Quarter

- This regulation is focused on how many units per quarter a student is expected to enroll in to retain residency at the University.
- The UCOP regulation regarding summer residency does not match up with our 5 and 10 week summer sessions. That's why there is a difference from the 6- or 8-week summer Sessions mentioned in the UCOP regulation (linked above).
- Students need residency in the summer to complete degree requirements, such as taking their comprehensive exam or submitting the thesis. If they were enrolled in the previous three quarters, summer enrollment is not necessary.
- The Graduate Division's current practice is students enroll in 2 units of the 10-week summer session maintain residency, if needed. This regulation update clarifies the different options available to obtain residency over the summer: 2 units in two 5-week sessions, or 4 units in the 10-week session and brings us in line with the UCOP regulation.
 - Most students are able to graduate over the summer for free.
 - PLEASE NOTE: This change will double the summer session fees for students who must enroll in the summer to maintain residency.

- PLEASE NOTE: Students in self-supporting programs that charge per unit will also be required to register in 4 units (and pay for them) to maintain residency.
- Added “transfer” to clarify the reference and referred to the transfer of unit regulations.

2.2.3 - Residence Requirement - Graduation

- This regulation is focused on eligibility to graduate, including summer graduation. This has been a point of confusion without a campus regulation to clarify and match the UCOP regulation.
 - PLEASE NOTE: Students in self-supporting programs will have to be enrolled in 4 units (and pay for them) to establish residency and be eligible for graduation for a specific quarter.
- The Graduate Division’s current practice is students enroll in 2 units of the 10-week summer session maintain residency. This regulation update clarifies the different options available to obtain residency over the summer: 2 units in two 5-week sessions, or 4 units in the 10-week session.
 - Most students are able to graduate over the summer for free.
 - PLEASE NOTE: This change will double the fees for students who need to enroll in the summer to maintain residency.

2.3 - Language Other Than English Requirement

- Option #1 – Remove the language requirement from senate regulations. This is the preferred option and currently reflected in the side-by-side
 - Justification:
 - Removing this regulation doesn’t take away a program’s ability to require a language other than English. The regulation already says that programs can decide to require it or not. This change will remove the senate overview regarding how the language requirement must be completed.
 - Current Ph.D. programs with language requirements are Anthropology, Art History, Critical Dance Studies, History, Music, and Philosophy.
- Option #2 – update the language requirement to the below:

2.3

Language Other Than English Requirement

Each graduate program shall determine whether a reading knowledge of one or more languages other than English shall form an integral part of the student's preparation for the Master's Degree. Satisfaction of this requirement shall be demonstrated, subject to approval of the graduate program, under one of the following options: (a) written or oral examination administered by the graduate program; (b) language other than English placement exam or assessment conducted by an accredited organization; (c) satisfactory completion of a language course(s) at a specified level; (d) alternative language certification identified by the graduate program and approved by the Graduate Council. Evidence of satisfaction of the requirement will be provided to the Vice Provost and Dean of Graduate Studies for each student where appropriate.

- Justification:
 - Updated wording to remove “foreign” from the regulation. Replaced with “language other than English.”
 - Updated this regulation to reflect previous changes made to the Ph.D. regulation
 - A) added option for oral exam, along with written.

- B) updated wording to reflect broader options and removed the organization mentioned in the previous regulation because it no longer exists.
- C) allowed for more than one course to complete the requirement
- D) alternative certification added
- Updated to Vice Provost and Dean of Graduate Studies.

2.4 - Scholarship Requirements (Removed)

- This information is already covered in the Standards of Scholarship Regulation (GR 1.2).

2.3 - Advancement to Candidacy Requirement (was 2.5)

- Updated to Vice Provost and Dean of Graduate Studies.
- Changed “course” to “all” to indicate the application for advancement to candidacy is due at the beginning of the quarter the student plans to graduate and complete all requirements.
- For reference, UCOP Regulations:
 - 682. Except as provided in SR 694, no graduate student will be recommended for any degree except upon completing at least one year of residence at the University of California, devoted to such a course of study as the Graduate Council concerned regards as a proper year's work, and upon complying with such other regulations as may apply. In the case of the Master's degree, the terms and deadline for formal advancement to candidacy in anticipation of the conferring of the degree are set in the rules of the specific graduate programs; exceptions are under the purview of the local Graduate Council. [See SRs 610, 612, 690.] (Am 9 Mar 83) (Am 15 April 2015)
 - 724. A candidate for the degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science must either have obtained a Bachelor's degree from one of the academic colleges of this University, or have pursued successfully a course of study equivalent to that represented by such a degree. The application for admission to candidacy must be made through the Dean of the Graduate Division concerned, and must contain a general statement of the studies upon which candidacy is based.

2.6, 2.6.1, 2.6.2 - Thesis Requirements

- Moved and consolidated in 2.1.1

3 – Requirements for Specific Master's Degree Objectives and the Candidate in Philosophy

- Updated this from an MFA only regulation to an overall master's requirements section, still including MFA.
- Added a regulation for the Candidate in Philosophy.

3.1 - Master's Unit Requirements

- Plan I and Plan II and universal Master's unit requirements. Overview of the regulations that will follow.
- Added the research unit maximums for Plan I and Plan II.
- Added the specific course restrictions currently enforced (no units from 001-099, 291, 300 and 400 level.)
- Davis example of a similar breakdown - <https://academicsenate.ucdavis.edu/bylaws-regulations/regulations#502->

3.1.1 - Requirements for Plan I: Master of Arts and Master of Science

- Moved the MA/MS Plan I unit regulations from 2.1.1.
- Added clarity for the 12-unit research limitation and specific course numbers.

3.1.2 - Requirements for Plan II: Master of Arts and Master of Science

- Moved the MA/MS Plan II unit regulations from 2.1.2 to this regulation.
- Added clarity for the 12-unit research limitation.

3.2 - Requirements for Candidate in Philosophy

- Removed original regulation text under this number. It was referring to the MFA and is now unnecessary because the information is clarified in 3.1.
- Added Candidate in Philosophy information, which has not been included in regulations previously.
 - UCOP Regulation 728 <https://senate.universityofcalifornia.edu/bylaws-regulations/regulations/rpart3.html#rpart3-Ilch3>

4.1 - Residence Definition - Academic

- The definition of “residence” was lacking in the regulations. This explains what that word means in the context of completing a Ph.D. degree.
- Simplifying and separating the information to enhance clarity about the different aspects of residency regulations
- Included the word “academic” to differentiate from California residency.

- UCSB Example - <https://catalog.ucsb.edu/pages/qmROuY1oB6oah1vB7CX2>

4.1.1 - Residence Requirement – Minimum Quarters

- Added “minimum quarters” to clarify that this regulation is only focused on the minimum number of quarters a student must attend to be eligible for a Ph.D.

4.1.2 - Residence Requirement – Minimum Units per Quarter

- Regulation focuses on how many units per quarter a student is expected to enroll in to retain residency in the Ph.D. program.
- The UCOP regulation regarding summer residency does not match up with our 5- and 10-week summer Sessions. That’s why there is a difference from the 6- or 8-week summer Sessions mentioned in the UCOP regulation.
- Students need residency in the summer to complete degree requirements, such as taking their written or oral qualifying exams. If they were enrolled in the previous three quarters, summer registration is not necessary.
- The Graduate Division’s current practice is students enroll in 2 units of the 10-week summer session maintain residency, if needed. This regulation update clarifies the different options available to obtain residency over the summer: 2 units in two 5-week sessions, or 4 units in the 10-week session and brings us in line with the UCOP regulation.

- Most students are able to graduate over the summer for free.
- PLEASE NOTE: This change will double the fees for students who must enroll in the summer to maintain residency.
- Added “transfer” to clarify the reference and referred to the transfer of unit regulations.

4.1.3 - Residence Requirement - Graduation

- Added information about eligibility to graduate, including summer graduation. This has been a point of confusion without a campus regulation to clarify and match the UCOP regulation.
- The Graduate Division’s current practice is students enroll in 2 units of the 10-week summer session maintain residency. This regulation update clarifies the different options available to obtain residency over the summer: 2 units in two 5-week sessions, or 4 units in the 10-week session.
 - Most students are able to graduate over the summer for free.
 - PLEASE NOTE: This change will double the fees for students who need to enroll in the summer to maintain residency.

4.2 - Language Other Than English Requirement

- Option #1 – Remove the language requirement from senate regulations. This is the preferred option and currently reflected in the side-by-side
 - Justification:
 - Removing this regulation doesn’t take away a program’s ability to require a language other than English. The regulation already says that programs can decide to require it or not. The only change will be the senate overview regarding how the requirement can be completed.
 - Current Ph.D. programs with language requirements: Anthropology, Art History, Critical Dance Studies, History, Music, and Philosophy.
- Option #2 - update the language requirement to the below:

4.2

Language Other Than English Requirement

Each graduate program shall determine whether a reading knowledge of one or more languages other than English shall form an integral part of the student's preparation for the Ph.D. degree. Satisfaction of this requirement shall be demonstrated, subject to approval of the graduate program, under one of the following options: (a) written or oral examination administered by the graduate program; (b) language other than English placement exam or assessment conducted by an accredited organization; (c) satisfactory completion of a language course(s) at a specified level; (d) alternative language certification identified by the graduate program and approved by the Graduate Council. Evidence of satisfaction of the requirement will be provided to the Vice Provost and Dean of Graduate Studies for each student where appropriate.

- Justification:

- Updated wording to remove “foreign” from the regulation. Replaced with “language other than English.”
- Updated this regulation to reflect previous changes made to the Ph.D. regulation
 - A) added option for oral exam, along with written.
 - B) updated wording to reflect broader options and removed the organization mentioned in the previous regulation because it no longer exists.
 - C) allowed for more than one course to complete the requirement
 - D) alternative certification added
- Updated to Vice Provost and Dean of Graduate Studies.

4.2 - Program of Study (was 4.3)

- The final line was removed and replaced with clearer language.
- Added reference to standards of scholarship which says:
 - Graduate students are expected to prove themselves worthy of the privilege of advanced study and research offered at the university by making acceptable progress towards degree objectives and maintaining the standards of scholarship established by the Graduate Council. Acceptable progress includes, but is not limited to:
 - 2. Completing course work and other degree requirements in a timely manner. In order to support timely progress, students may take courses outside of their required course work only with approval of the Graduate Advisor

4.5 - Dissertation Committee, Final Defense, Dissertation Formatting and Dissertation Submission Requirements

- Updated title to include all information and match thesis regulation.

4.5.1 - Dissertation and Final Defense Requirements

- Removed “may” so it’s clear all Ph.D. programs require the final defense.
- Adding unanimous approval of the thesis committee members for final defense completion.

4.5.2 - Dissertation Formatting and Submission Requirements

- Adding clarifying language to match the thesis regulation.
- Adding unanimous approval of the dissertation committee members for dissertation approval.
